

Chapin School

Fall Term Progress Report
Lower School Music
Ms. Elizabeth Frasciello

Student: Eva B.

Class: 1 R

	1	2	3	4
Skills	Student is frequently incapable of achieving classroom objectives. Student has made little or no progress through our music study.	Student has difficulty achieving classroom objectives. Student progresses at a slow pace through our music study.	Student is frequently successful in achieving lesson objectives. Student progresses well through our music study.	Student excels in all areas of our music study. Student reaches objectives early in our classroom practice and contributes their own knowledge to the lesson.
Effort	Student shows no effort in music classroom. Student is frequently distracted/distracting. Contribution to classroom activity/discussion is extremely rare.	Student occasionally contributes to classroom discussion but doesn't frequently give best effort to classroom activity.	Student frequently contributes to classroom discussion and usually gives best effort to classroom activity.	Student always contributes to classroom discussion and always gives best effort to classroom activities. Student also offers help to others.
Attitude	Student is rarely happy in music class and seems annoyed with music study. Student is rarely attentive during class.	Student seems content with music study. Sometimes seems disconnected from class.	Student is often very happy to be in music and seems to enjoy our music study.	Student seems enthusiastic about music study! Always very excited to make music!

Teacher Comments:

Eva is such a joy to have in class. She is hardworking, focused, and quite the little music maker! Even though she is a new student this year, she is more outgoing and confident than most of the other students. I am very impressed with her contributions to class and am excited to see her grow as a student here at Chapin.

